*Are you a young woman ages 17-24 who is passionate about her Irish culture?
Are you interested in representing the Detroit Irish Community? Does an opportunity to travel to Ireland and learn about your roots sound exciting?
Then we have just the competition for you!*

The Detroit United Irish Societies is seeking young women of Irish descent to represent the Detroit Irish community. Made up of 32 organizations, the DUIS was founded in the late 1950's to serve the local community, celebrate our Irish heritage, and promote our culture. For 2019, we are pursuing passionate young women looking to expand their knowledge of their own Irish roots and faith. In partnership with the Cork County Council in Ireland, these young adults will be strengthening the bond between our own Corktown and County Cork Ireland.

The format for the 2019 competition will be a closed interview with the judges, a public prepared speech, and an interview in front of the audience designed so the judges can evaluate communication skills, poise, knowledge and appreciation of Irish ancestry.
